

Jury Duty Scam
by Amy Bryant, Police Department

Protecting your own identity gets tougher every day as criminals become smarter and more aggressive in obtaining personal information. The newest scam is when a con artist contacts a victim over the telephone and claims to work for the local court.

The supposed court worker tells the person that a warrant has been issued for their arrest due to their failure to report for jury duty. The con artist then requests personal information in order to verify records.

The judicial system does not contact people over the telephone and does not ask for personal information such as Social Security numbers, date of birth or credit card numbers. NEVER give out personal information via the telephone, especially if you did not initiate the call. If callers insist upon verifying information with you, have them read the data from their records and answer with a simple yes or no.

If you are unsure if a call is legitimate concerning a court date, you may contact the Sandy Justice Court at 568-7160 and ask to speak to a jury manager.
